2017.10 Finance – 2016 accounts and appointing an examiner

C. Gould, our finance trustee, has brought the name of Tom Heidemann as external examiner of our accounts for 2016, and we make this appointment. We appreciate the skills and experience Tom will bring to this task and thank him for undertaking this for us.

We thank Finance Committee for their hard work in putting together and presenting YFGM’s accounts for 2016. We approve these accounts subject to examination, and attach them to these minutes.

2017.11 Nominations to Nominations Committee

We appoint Jenny Baines, T. Wright and Claudia Fry to serve on Nominations Committee until May 2020.

2017.12 YFGM’s report to Meeting for Sufferings

We have heard the report on YFGM that our Meeting for Sufferings representatives have written to be presented at the next Meeting for Sufferings. We thank Laurence Hall, Rici Marshall Cross and trustees for the work they have put into this report. We ask trustees to make sure the report also reflects the value that outside speakers place on being invited to YFGM and the way in which YFGM helps individuals in our community grow and connect with the wider body of Quakerism and the rest of the world.

2017.13 Co-options to committees

issues into the light of the meeting. We recognise that as a community we all have a part to play in caring for one another, and helping with practical tasks, and feel that by doing so we can help support and uphold our role-holders, especially overseers.

We recognise that this is part of an ongoing conversation about supporting the mental-wellbeing of everyone taking part in YFGM. Making changes to how YFGM organises itself is a daunting task, one which will be difficult and stressful at times. However, we remain hopeful, and trust our discernment process to lead us forward. We are encouraged by the first steps that have been implemented already this weekend.

2017.18 Clerks' Offering

We gathered on a hot weekend in Sheffield to get to know one another through worship, listening, games, work and food.

We spent some time together imagining island utopias and thought about what sort of community we would create. How would we eat, learn, worship and look after one another? Would we seek and accept contact with the world beyond ours?

We also took part in a world café-style conversations around the topics of community, home, why we come to YFGM and Christianity in Quakerism. The time and space in which we listen to one another's thoughts and experiences is a precious gift for our community. We value the chance to begin conversations we hope to carry on.

We connected across an ocean (via video link) with young Friends from Philadelphia Yearly Meeting in the USA. Hearing their stories of creating and working with conflict and change within their yearly meeting was eye-opening and made us think about our own situation within BYM. We hope to further the connection with inspiration and mutual support from the young Friends community we have met.

John Bourton and Michael Elstub from Veterans for Peace shared moving personal stories of their experiences in the military and their journeys to become peace activists. As we build our own community, they reminded us of the importance of recognising the humanity of those who choose very different paths, whilst standing firm in what we believe to be right.

In epilogues, prologue and preparation for worship, Quintessential have helped us to stay grounded in our spiritual practice and be thankful for our community.

We have made extra space this weekend for simply being together. We have taken the opportunity to explore the city, enjoying rambling walks and rambling conversation. We have taken time to look after ourselves and each other, and our community feels richer for it.

We leave Sheffield grateful for the chance to journey together over this weekend. As we continue on our individual paths, we look forward to the next time they will meet.

Notes
A.1
In 2016 we received a single grant of £13,000. This was a one-off which we did not receive in 2016.
A.2
£26,592 of this figure in 2015 and 2016 was from the Joseph Rowntree Charitable Trust (JRCT), which was granted in four instalments of £6,648.
B
This is a new category. This event raised £907.39, and cost £547.02, meaning its net gain was £360.35. Although this is not an excessive fundraising amount, there were other aspects of our charitable remit achieved by the event such as community-building, and outreach amongst a wider audience. We hope to increase on these financial and community efforts in coming years.
C
This is sales of anti-Tident concern T-shirts and reclaimed gift aid.
D
Accessibility fund is now being accounted for together with bursaries, rather than under "Support of meeting - YFGM gatherings".
E
Outreach costs are now being accounted for separately, rather than included in "Support of meeting - other".
F
This now includes costs other than the annual invoice - the invoice for 2015 was submitted in January 2016, plus there are quarterly invoices for office costs, a trustees' weekend and miscellaneous extras.
G
Outreach costs are now being included here, not under "Support of meeting - other".
H
The 2015 figure refers to bursaries only and includes grants for YALP, which were not claimed in 2016. The 2016 figure now includes the accessibility fund which was formerly under "Support of meeting - YFGM gatherings".
I
This was pledged by YFGM to the FWCC World Plenary Meeting travel bursary fund in October 2015.
J
The £1 discrepancy is due to rounding differences between the "total cash funds", and the "cash funds this year end" data.

Attachment II      Minute from the Nominations Committee

It is not the norm for us to be finding four names to serve on a committee at once. The unspoken can put a lot of pressure on a community and it feels important to acknowledge that this situation is a result of brokenness in our systems. Our committees in recent times have been under a lot of stress, something that many of us are all too aware of, but which can be invisible to those of us who have not been told. Overseers have not been the only committee struggling, but we find ourselves this weekend filling almost the entire committee.

We are full of optimism about the names we have found, and thank them for their willingness to serve. We also know that those serving in recent times have been very strong names and have given a lot. For this new group to flourish, change must also come from outside of the committee. We thank all of those who have served, however briefly, for their gifts to the community, and look with hope to this opportunity for YFGM to stand behind not only this but all of its committees. We must make use of every pair of hands, and welcome fresh eyes and questioning minds to nourish our culture of upholding one another. All this is fertile ground for change.
